

PINDARIAN
1955

Sheila Hyland
Freshman 9B.

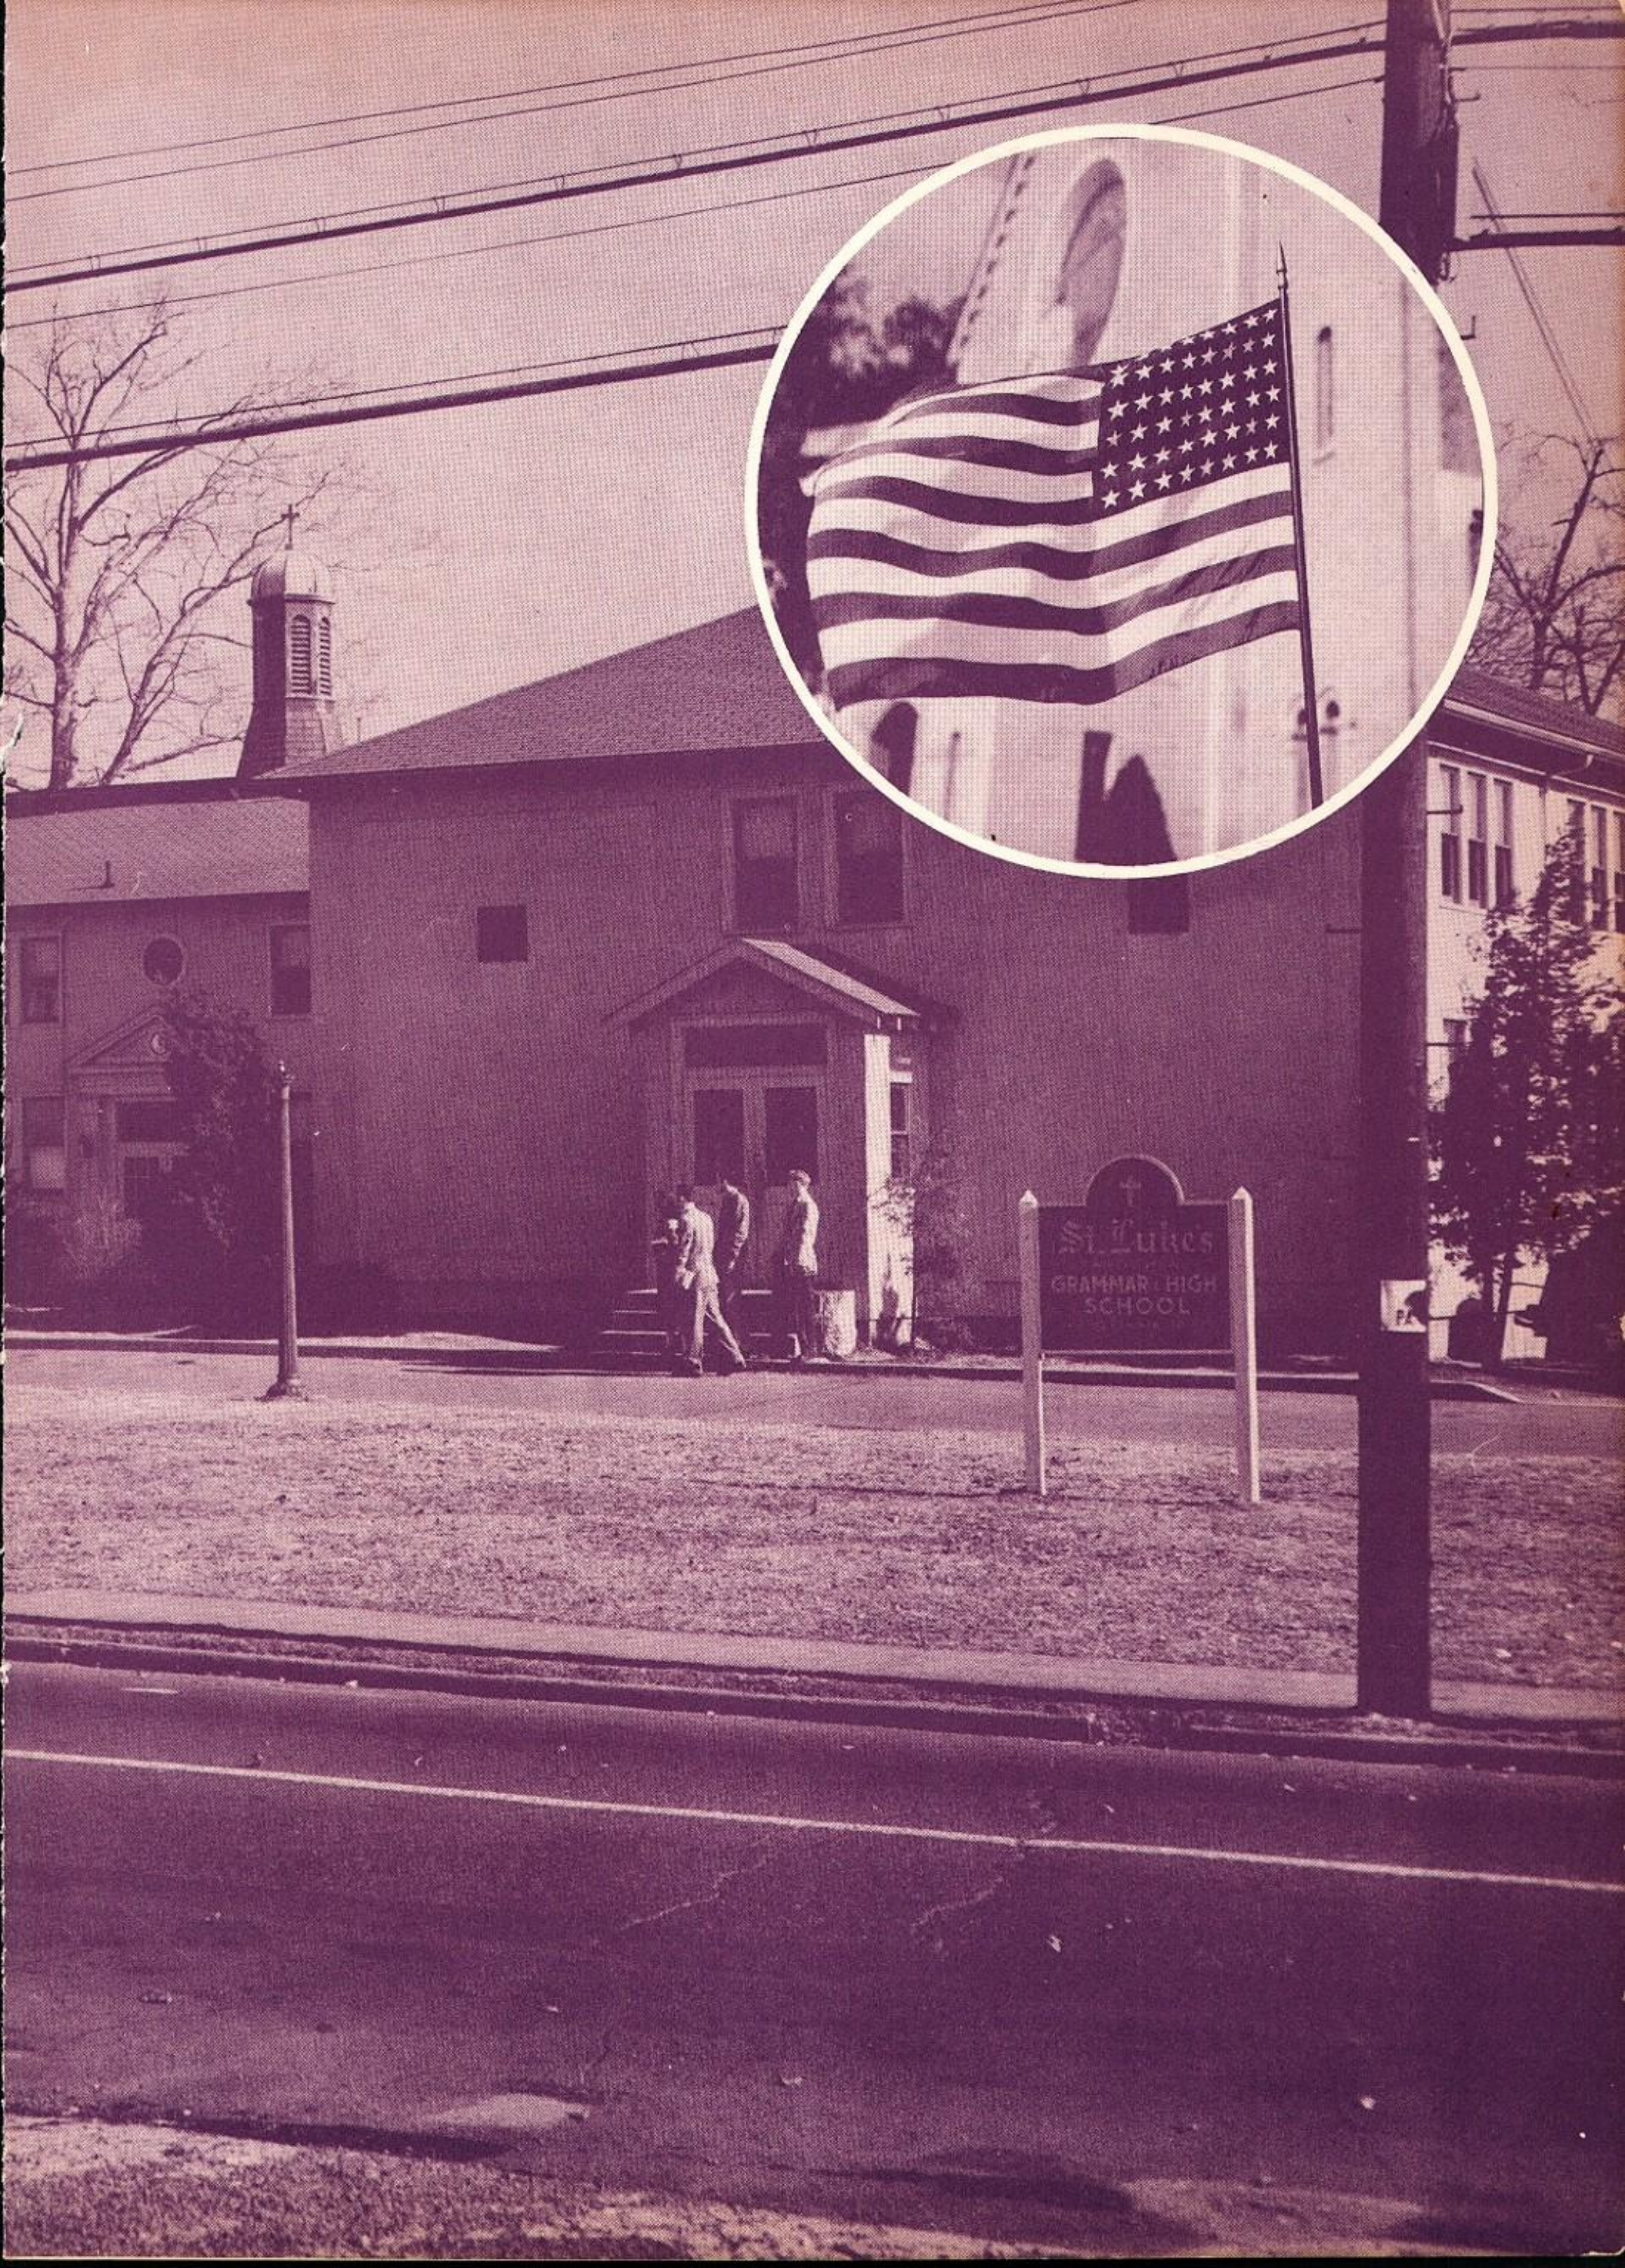

Alma Mater

Alma Mater calls to us all tonight,
Calls tonight, inviting us to bring
Our promise to do what is good and right
Let our voices proudly sing.

Chorus:

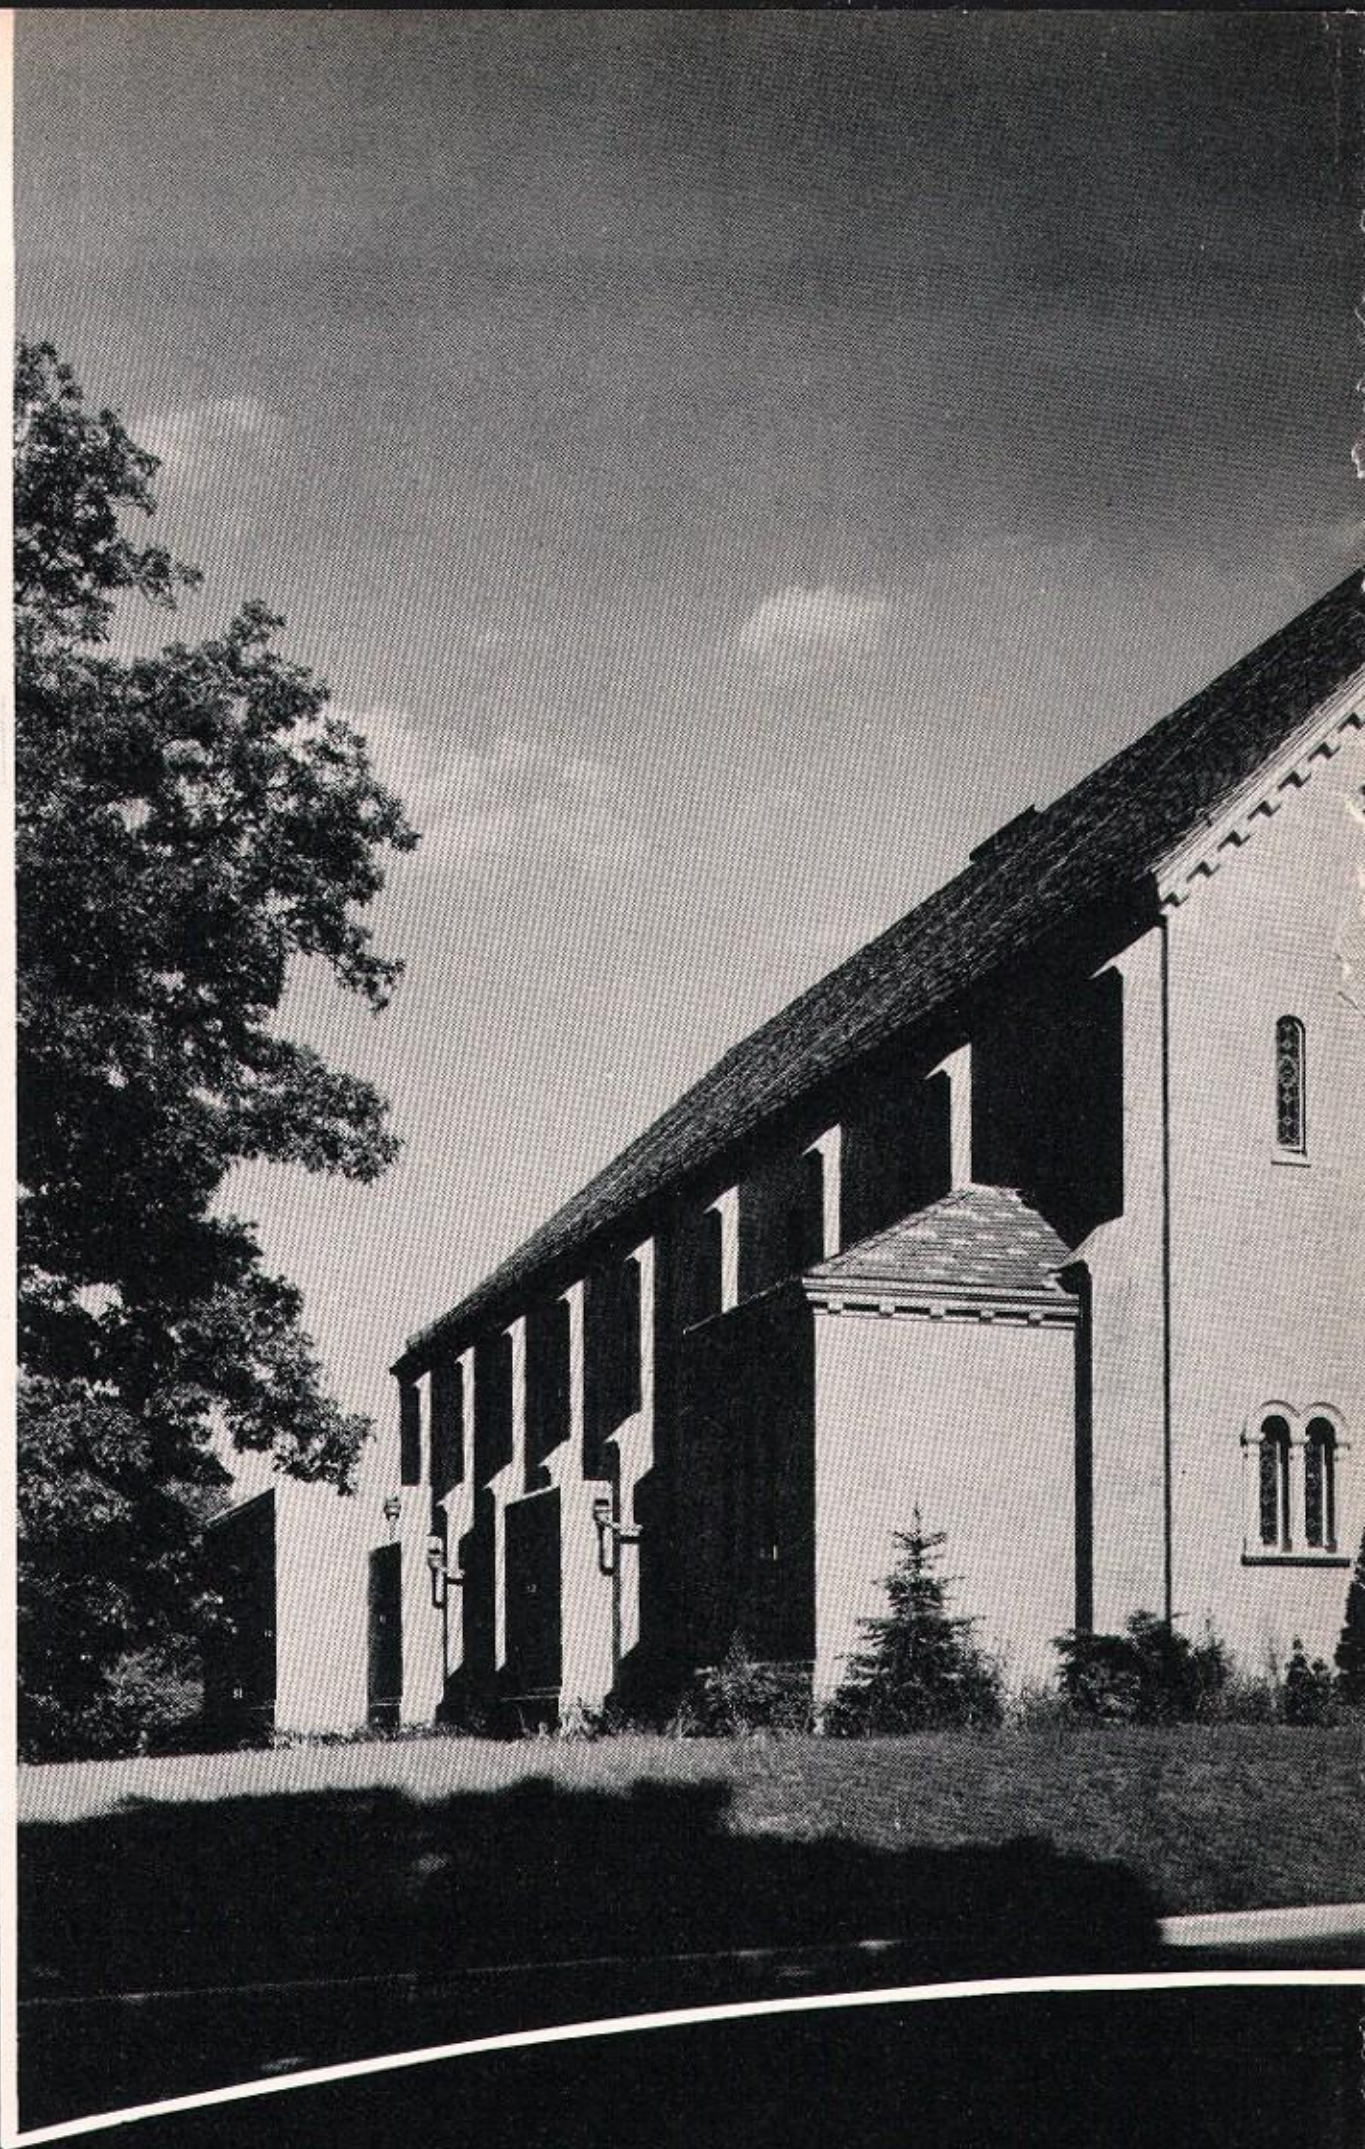

Let's keep the honor of St. Luke's,
Let's keep her banner floating high,
Let's keep each memory of days gone by
As bright as the stars in the sky.
Let's all stand shoulder to shoulder,
Let's keep our Loyalty true
Let's keep her name e'er unsullied
By what we say and do.

All the boys and the girls of St. Luke's High Come and sing, sing with all your might
To prove to the world there shall be no stain
On the purple and the white.

For God and Country . . .

NEW JERSEY

FOREWORD

For the theme of the 1955 Pindarian the senior class has selected the motto: For God and Country! If we love our country, it is not because it is the greatest country in the world, for we would love it if it were the least. We love it because the virtue of piety which binds us to God is the foundation of patriotism which binds us to our fellowmen. We place our patriotism on the strong base of religion. For us the love of country is not a house built upon the sands of revolutionary change, but a house built upon a rock—which is God.

Reverend
WILLIAM J. DUFFY

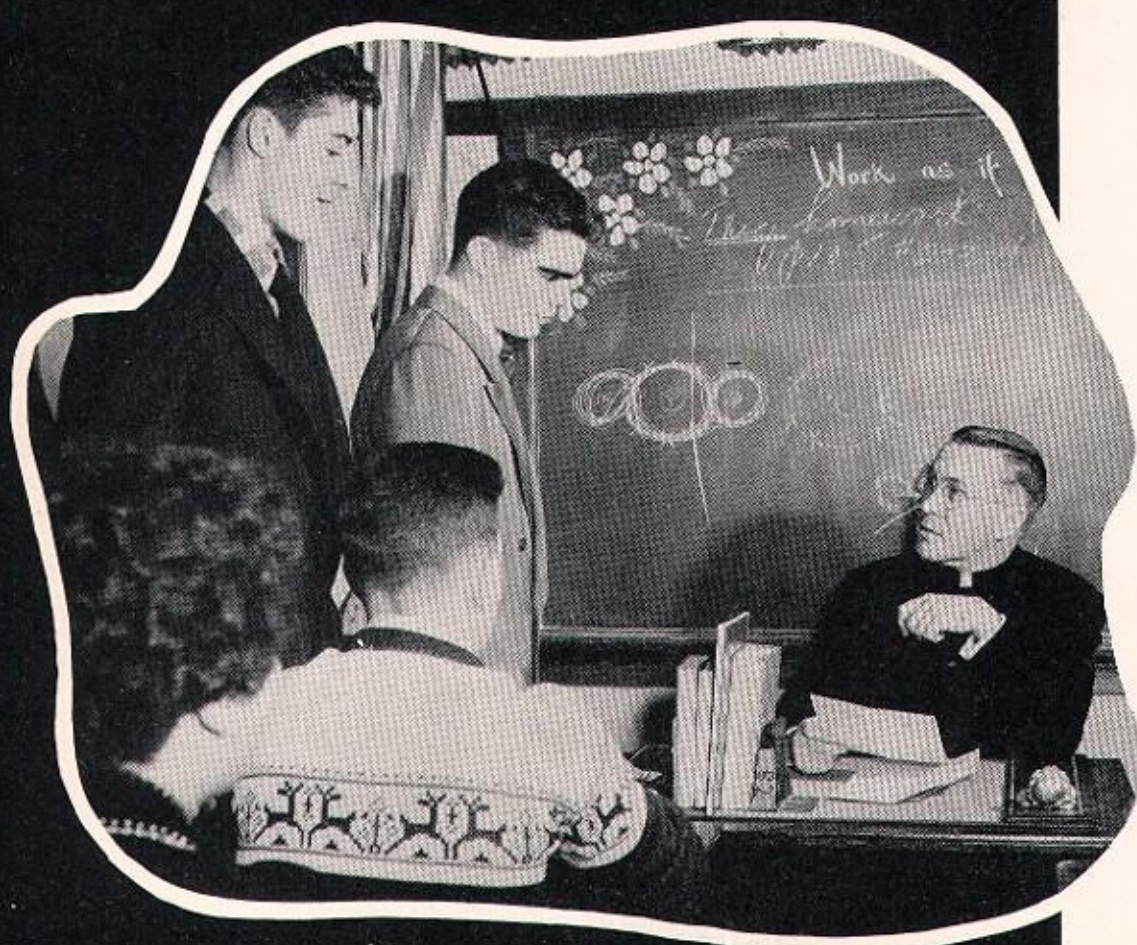

DEDICATION

The spirit of the Declaration of Independence recognizes that all power with its responsibilities comes from God and this spirit is in precise consistency with Christian teaching on the Divine origin of authority.

Father Duffy, our pastor, under whose leadership we have come to know God better, love our faith more deeply, and grow in wisdom and grace, is the epitome of the ideal priest and leader. His kindness, solicitude, and concern for us have been manifested in countless ways. They have not gone unnoticed or unappreciated. As a token of our genuine gratitude to Father for his wonderful care of us, we respectfully dedicate to him this, the 1955 Pindarian. May his years at St. Luke's be long, fruitful, and happy. When the last page of life's book has been written, may it find him reaping in full the promise of Christ Himself: "Those who instruct others unto Justice shall shine as stars for all eternity."

FACULTY

True greatness resides in qualities of the heart, in charity, justice, peace, purity, love; it is the development of our inner life, the enriching of our minds, the purification of our hearts; and the people who are the bearers of the deepest love, the holiest faith, and work most firmly under the inspiration of the Leader on the Cross — these are the patriots of America.

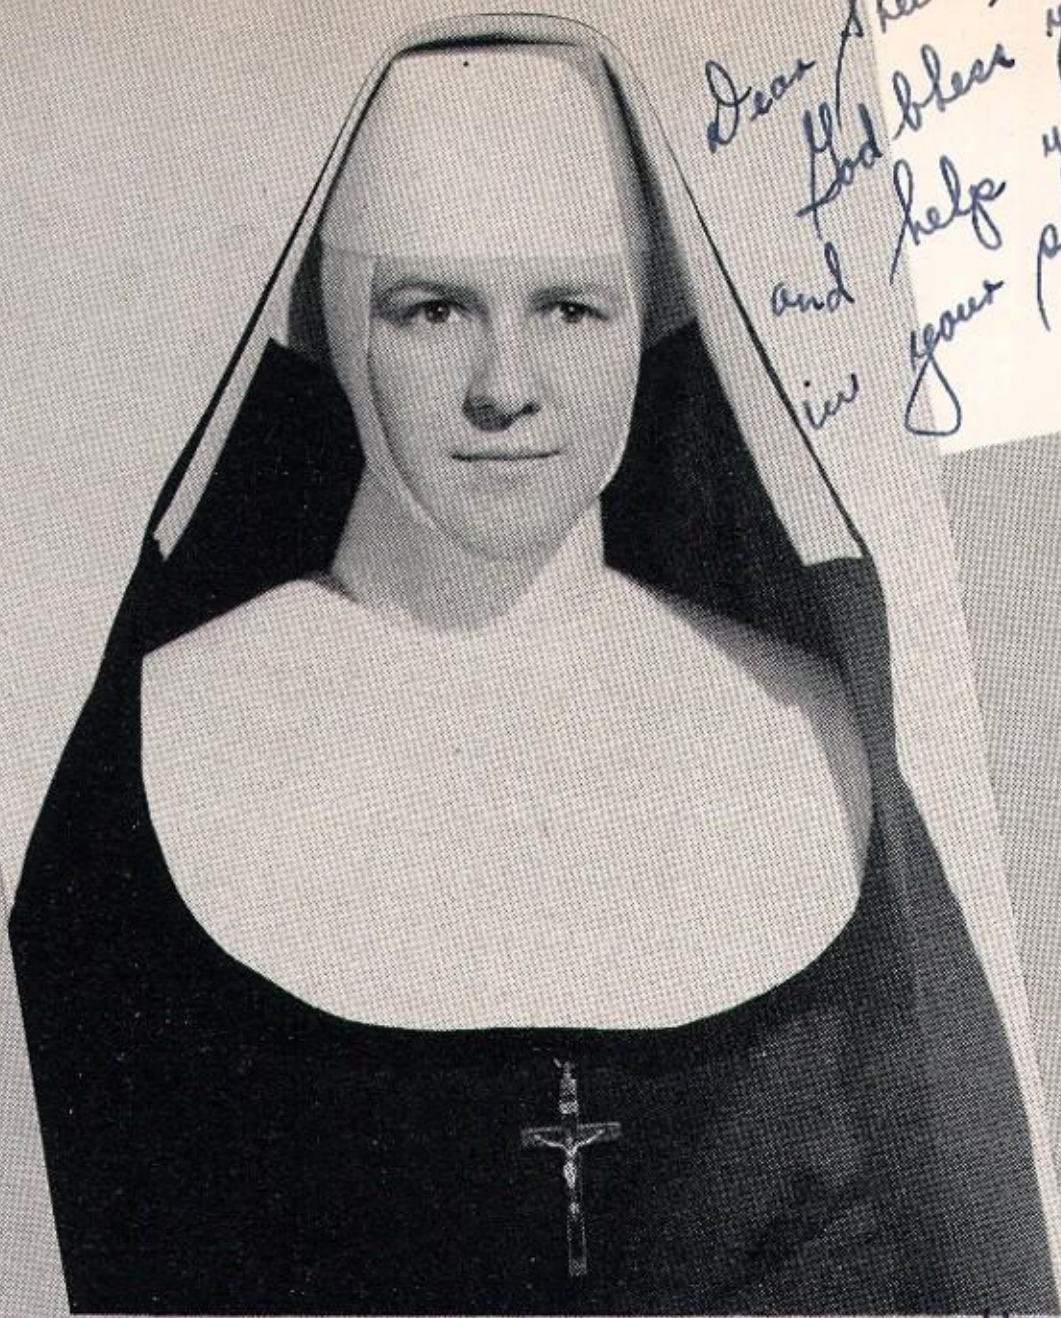

SISTER M. ALACOQUE, C.S.J.

Principal . . . religion . . . Blessed Virgin Sodality adviser . . . Pindarian adviser.

In combining the attributes of both principal and teacher, Sister Alacoque has successfully instilled in the hearts and minds of all her students, past and present, a deep understanding of the code of Christian living. Her unwavering sincerity and interest in the welfare of the students will be cherished by all those who have had the benefit of her guidance.

The seniors would particularly like to thank Sister for bringing to life the religion classes which she so ably teaches and for the spiritual direction she affords the appreciative sodalists.

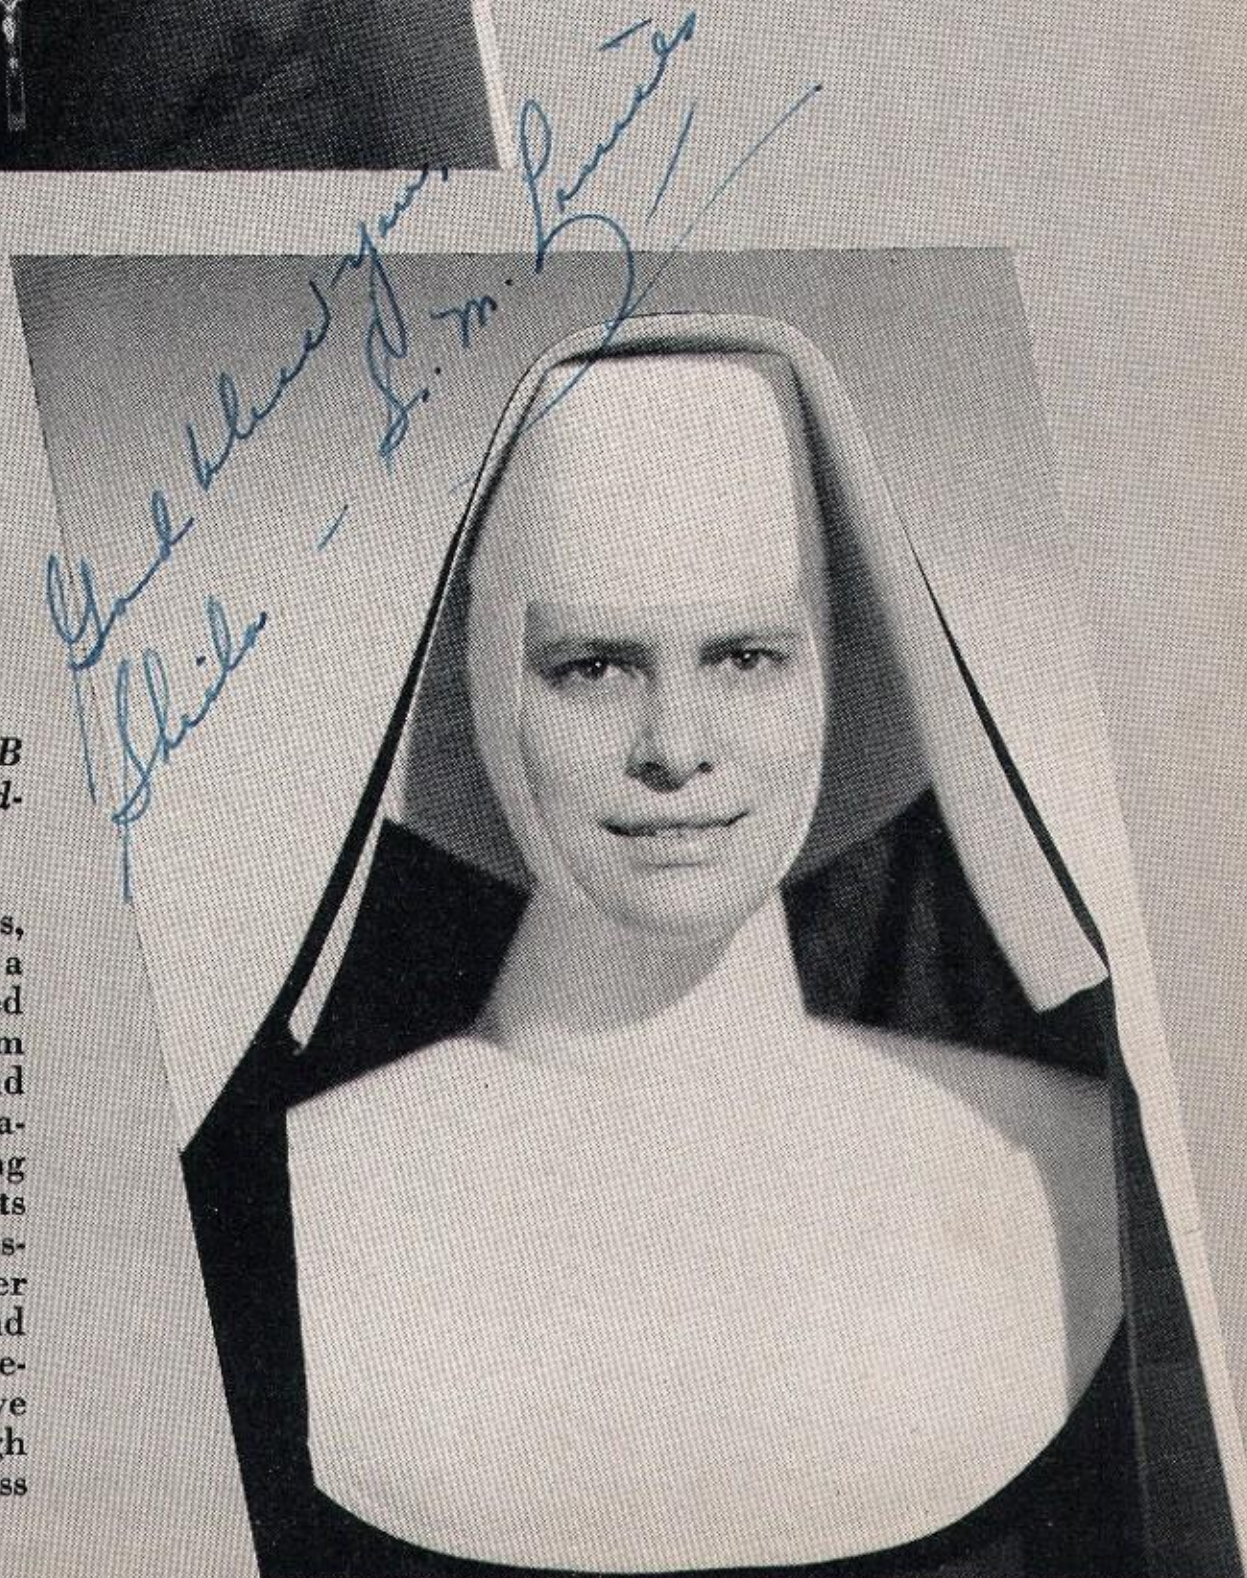

Dear Sheila,
 God bless you
 and help you in your sister's follow her foot steps.
 Patricia Ann

SISTER PATRICIA ANN, C.S.J.

Religion . . . algebra . . . physics . . . chemistry . . . faculty adviser for the boys' senior sodality . . . Junior A homeroom.

When the class of 1955 recalls the fond memories of high school days, Sister Patricia Ann's name will receive a top rating. Ever since freshman days we have been privileged to be in Sister's classes and receive her kindly instruction and guidance. Her competence in presenting class-work and sincere interest in each individual student plus her dynamic personality, have all combined to endear Sister to every graduate. Time will only accentuate the treasured memories Sister has left us.

God bless you,
 S. M. Louise
 Sheila

SISTER M. LOUISE, C.S.J.

English . . . biology . . . Junior B homeroom . . . Student Council adviser . . . dramatics.

Whether it be students, microbes, or a tense dramatic moment in a play, Sister Louise's wholehearted interest and unrivalled enthusiasm gets its attention. The same zeal and capability characterized the organization of the Student Council. Nothing is unimportant where Lucan interests are concerned in Sister Louise's estimation. Our association with Sister in class projects, club activities, and dramatics have been a never-to-be-forgotten experience. Our lives have definitely been enriched through Sister Louise's influence. God bless her for it!

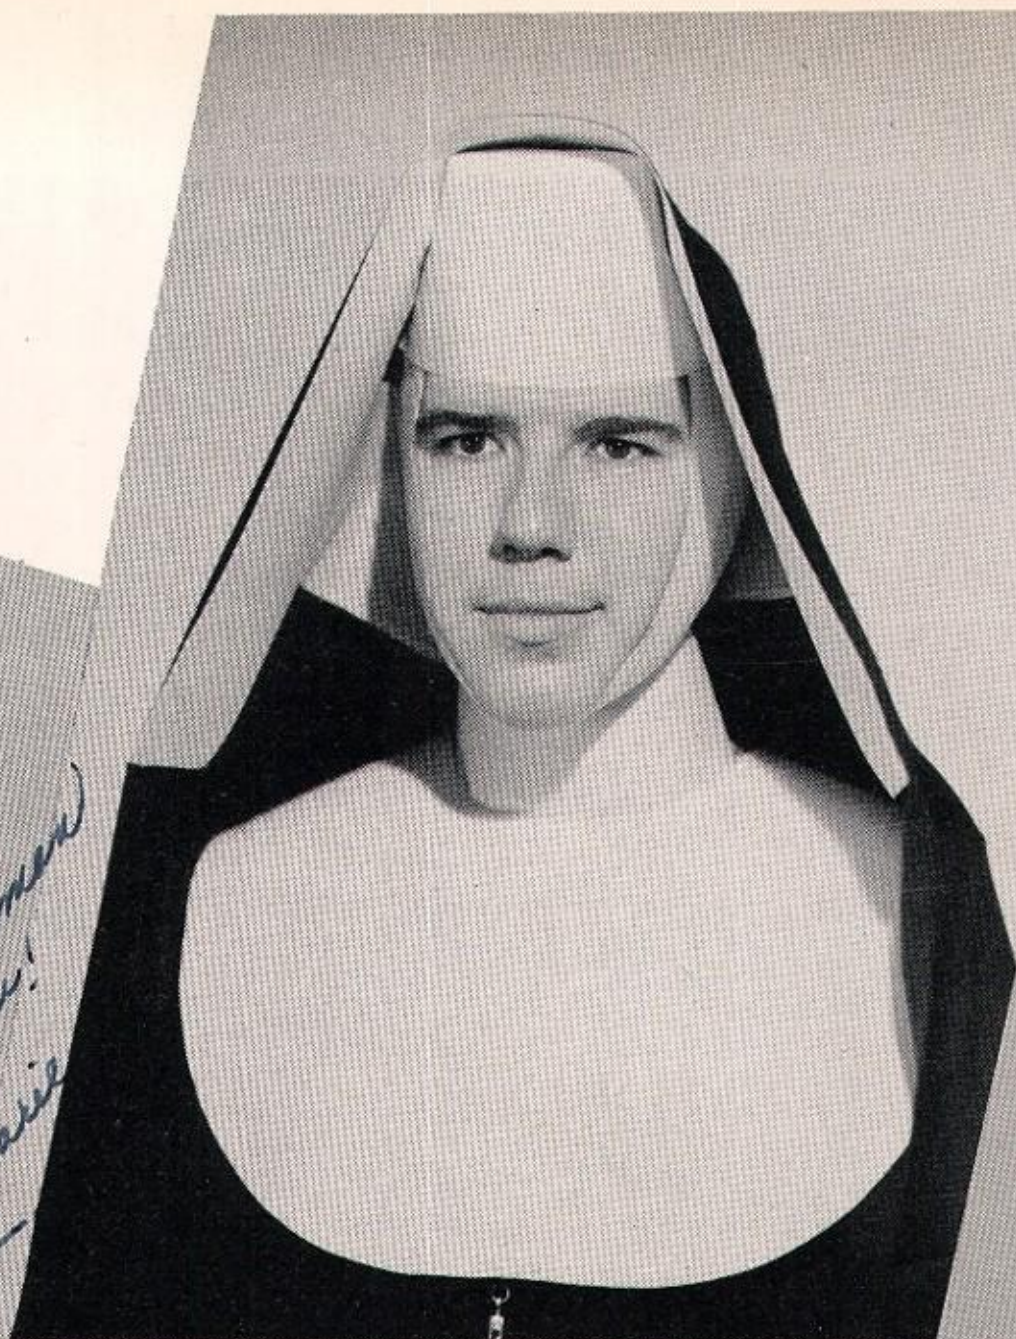

Sr. Michael Joseph, C.S.J.

SISTER M. MICHAEL JOSEPH, C.S.J.

*Religion . . . English . . . Latin . . . geometry . . . librarian . . . Sophomore
A homeroom . . . choir . . . glee club.*

The Christian Social Principles have been indelibly impressed upon the class of 1955 because of Sister Michael Joseph. Also the library techniques and methods of research became fascinating endeavors too, under Sister's capable leadership. All in all Sister has been a major factor in forming the finished Lucan products of the class of 1955, and we shall never forget her for it. "For God and Country" was a motto we lived in Sister's classes.

*Dear Sheila -
Keep up the fine enthusiasm which has marked your Freshman year! God bless you!
Sr. Ursula Marie*

SISTER URSULA MARIE, C.S.J.

*Religion . . . history . . . Latin . . .
Sophomore A homeroom . . . Booster Club adviser.*

The graduation class will be forever grateful for the sincere and helpful guidance extended to them by Sister Ursula Marie. Current events and American History classes have lived in the minds of her pupils because of her realistic and able methods of presentation. While working with the Booster Club she has truly endeared herself to the hearts of all Lucans as a loyal and enthusiastic adviser.

*God bless You.
O.N.T.O.
Sister Agnes*

SISTER AGNES MICHAEL, C.S.J.

Religion . . . office practice . . . stenography . . . Freshman C homeroom . . . Camera Club adviser.

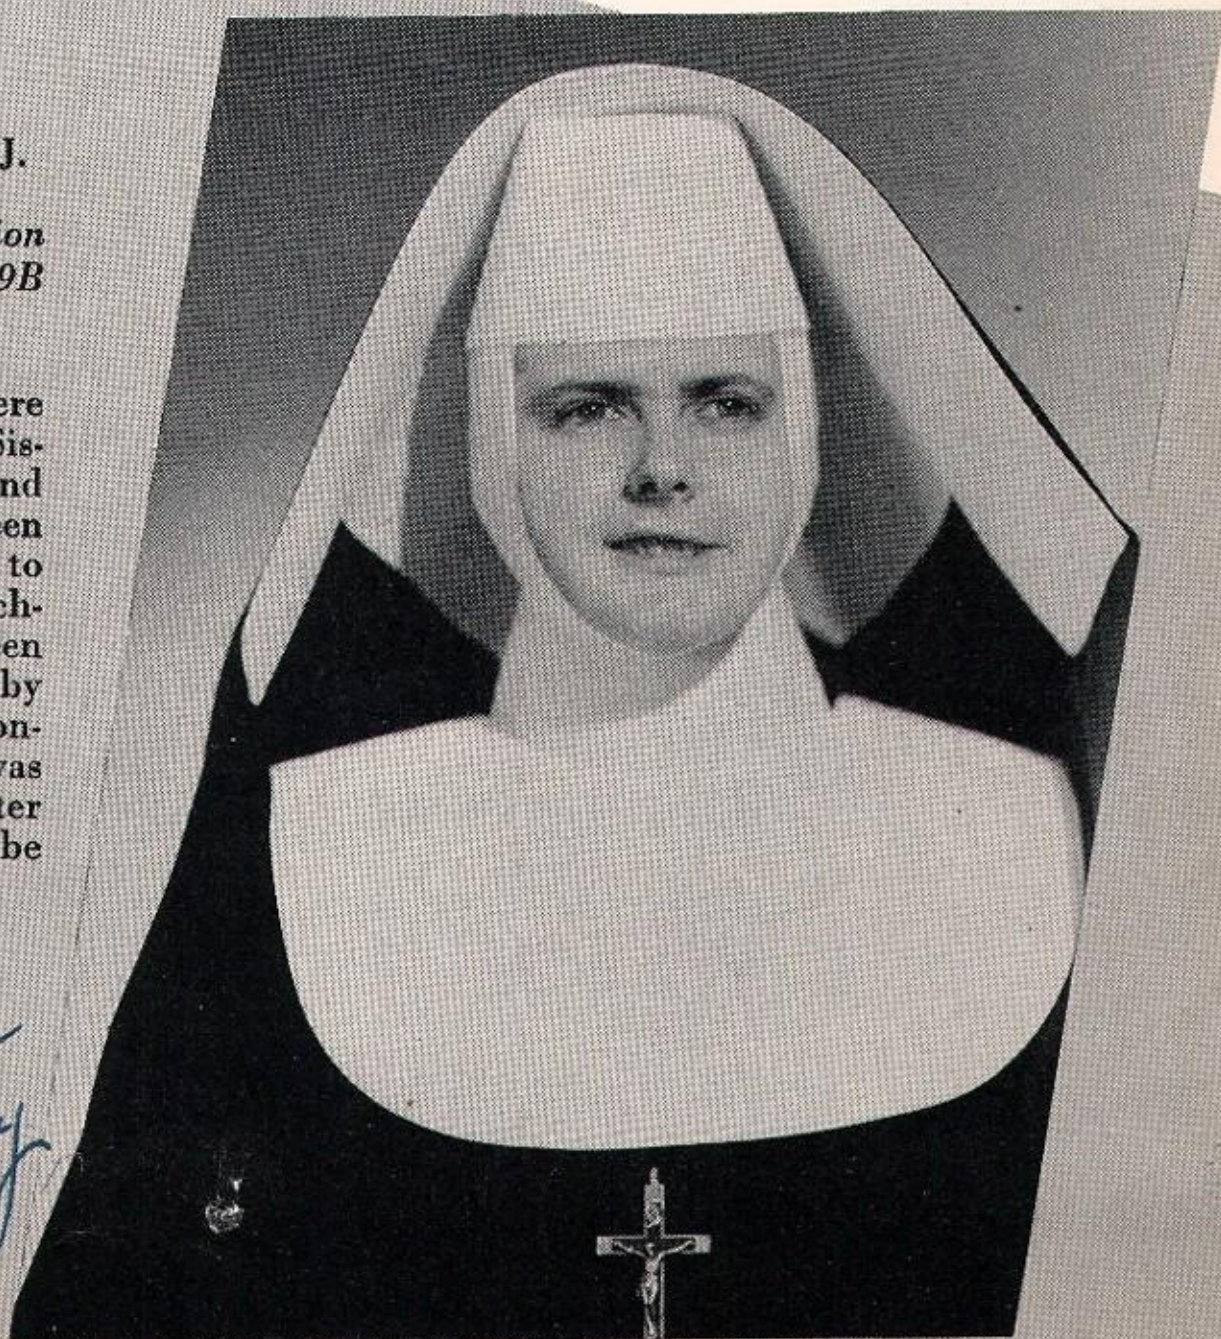

The training we have received in the business field is unequalled anywhere for its excellent thoroughness and efficiency. This is mainly due to the instructions and interest of Sister Agnes Michael. The school spirit that permeates freshman quarters, too, is a tribute to the enthusiastic influence of Sister, who spreads joy and Lucan spirit wherever she goes. By the contagion of good example we have profited by this contact with Sister and so will always associate Sister's name with our pleasant memories of St. Luke's.

SISTER MARGARET MARY, C.S.J.

Trigonometry . . . Latin . . . religion algebra . . . basic mathematics . . . 9B homeroom . . . Taurus adviser.

The intricacies of trigonometry were made clearly comprehensible under Sister Margaret Mary's able teaching. And the "new look" that Taurus has been sporting is due in no small measure to Sister's journalistic interests and techniques. Being in Sister's class has been a decided privilege, and benefiting by her capable direction has been a wonderful experience. Our senior year was made more pleasant because of Sister Margaret Mary. May future Lucans be able to make the same boast!

*To Sheila,
May God bless you in all your endeavors.
Sr. Margaret
Mary*

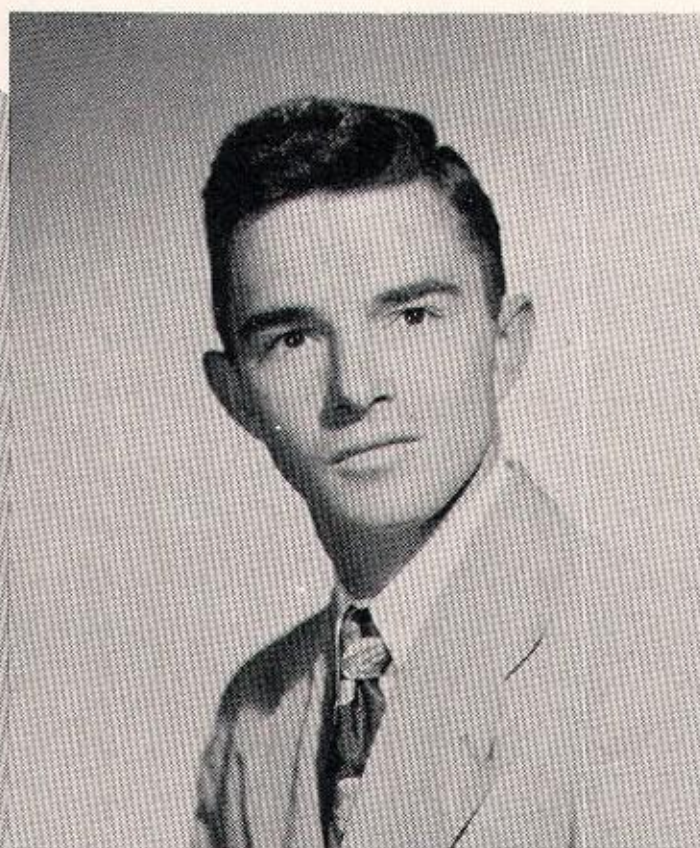

MR. ANGELO SCAFURO, B.A.

Ancient history . . . coach

No matter where Mr. Scafuro is, whether it is on a football field, basketball court, baseball diamond or behind a classroom desk, his very presence rouses the spirit that has made him so popular. He has sparked the Lucan teams to victory in a way that has won fame for both he and his proteges. He is the personification of Lucan spirit.

MR. JOHN ELWOOD, B.S.

*Science . . . Assistant Coach . . .
Freshman A homeroom . . . visual aids department*

The finest compliment a student can pay a teacher is that as well as being an excellent instructor, he is the perfect gentleman. Mr. Elwood has these enviable traits and has had them throughout his days at St. Luke's. We, the senior class of 1955, pray you will be as much of an inspiration to your future students as you have been to us.

*May God bless and guide you along the road to success.
Mr. Elwood*

MISS MARY FARINELLA, A.B.

French . . . Spanish

The seniors of '55 are sorry they will not have greater time and opportunity to become better acquainted with Miss Farinella, our new language teacher who replaced Mrs. J. Ruffing. On the basis of the reports of the underclassmen and the seniors who are her pupils, we are confident that already Miss Farinella has become one of the Lucans' favorites on the faculty list. The graduating class extends to you, Miss Farinella, a sincere wish for a long and successful stay at St. Luke's.

MISS MARIA A. COELHO, B.S.

Typewriting . . . business training

The typewriting and business training classes have flourished under the able instruction of Miss Coelho. Many of the seniors will leave St. Luke's ready for the business world because of the assistance and encouragement extended by this gracious teacher.

*Best wishes
M. A. Coelho*

Sheila -

You have that indefinable something known to man as "personality," or that which makes your presence a pleasure to others. My congratulations to you on the completion of your freshman year.

Rob Roswell

MRS. MARGARET GRZYMALA, R.N.

None of our athletic events would be complete without the familiar figure of Mrs. Grzymala being ever present to render aid to the injured. Besides all her nursing duties she has introduced another extra curricular activity, that of a Home Nursing Course. It is the fervent wish of all the graduating girls, who are intending to pursue nursing as a career, that they be half as capable and cooperative as she. For the many hours Mrs. Grzymala has devoted to the welfare of the students of St. Luke's, we give her our heartfelt thanks and prayers.

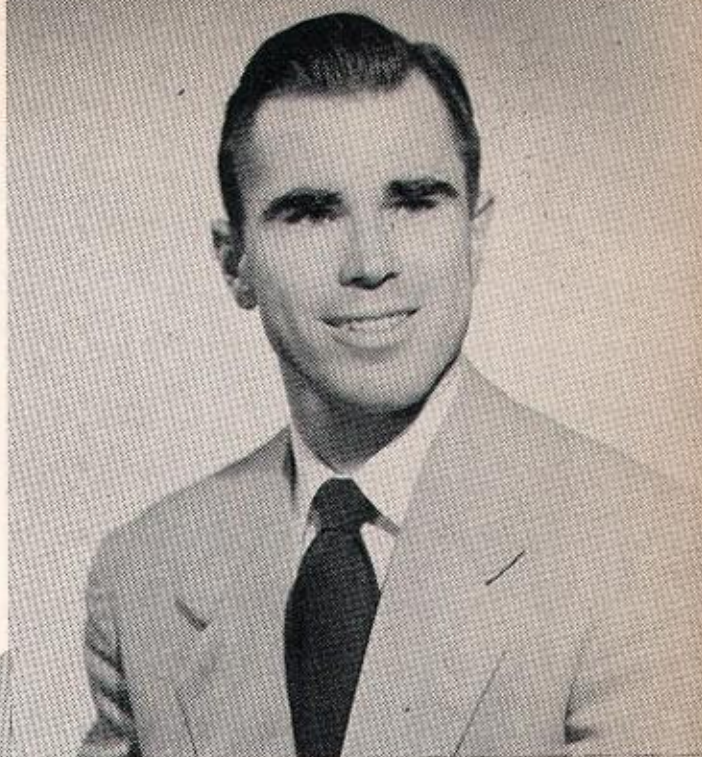

Handwritten note: The Best of Luck Miss Grzymala

MR. ROBERT ROSWELL, B.A.

*History . . . English . . .
Stamp Club adviser*

The seniors wish to thank Mr. Roswell for his wonderful spirit and generosity. As a new member of the faculty, he has become well known to the students through his organization of the Stamp Club. By his efforts, he has gained the respect and cooperation of the whole student body. St. Luke's is proud to add another former Lucan to her teaching staff.

MR. WILLIAM H. HIGGINS, B.A.

English . . . Chess Club adviser

Although the seniors have not had the opportunity to be taught by Mr. Higgins, they are proud to list him as a member of the faculty. His spirit has been reflected in the time he has so generously donated to extra curricular activities and attendance at school functions.

MISS LU ROBERTS, B.S., M.A.

Physical Training Instructor

It was with great happiness that the girls welcomed back Miss Roberts to their gym classes and teams. Her manner of inculcating good sportsmanship with lady-like behavior have endeared her to the hearts of the students. We shall always be thankful for having had the chance to be taught by Miss Roberts.

MISS JANE WELLS

"When in doubt, ask Jane!" Every student from the lowliest freshman to the highest senior has heard this saying and every student has turned to Jane in time of distress. Never has she refused to help anyone and that help is always accompanied by a smiling face. God bless you, Jane, and may your affable manner continue to spread happiness in the lives of all you meet.

SENIORS

Unity, strength, and loyalty to both God and Country are our watchwords.

"United under God we stand secure."

Dear Shula
 Keep happy, smiling

The Seniors industriously prepare for Current Events class.

Barbara Horwitt entertains a group of senior girls at St. Michael's Novitiate in Englewood.

The aim of every student who graduates from St. Luke's is to serve God and Country. Some graduates have tried harder and served better than others, but there are a few who have served best of all. These are the ones who have left everything to follow Christ, the boys who have entered the seminary, the girls who have entered the convent. For they have chosen the better part. They serve God, because they continue the work of the Apostles by bringing His light to all nations. They serve country through their work in teaching the young, ministering to the sick, in caring for the orphaned, the aged, the blind; they serve country in a thousand needed ways, building a strong, a greater America, a nation so great that we can be as fiercely proud of being Americans as we are of being Catholics.

In very recent years, three girls from St. Luke's have been given God's most precious gift, a vocation. They have joined the order of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Newark, and begun their new life at the Novitiate of St. Michael's at Englewood Cliffs.

Remember Mary Jane Cooke (better known as Midge)? She was a senior the year the class of '55 were freshmen. Everyone knew Midge as a pleasant, smiling girl with perhaps a little bit of tomboy in her, but those who knew her well were not at all surprised when she entered the convent, for Midge was a girl who knew what she wanted out of life. Now she is Sister Hyacinth.

More of us perhaps remember Carole Moore, a more recent graduate (the class of '53. Carole was in everything, cheerleading, Taurus, Pindarian, and most of the clubs). Now as Sister Carole, she uses the same vivacity as a bride of Christ.

We all remember Pat Wall, who graduated just last year, now Sister Josepha. Pat was the wonder known as "The Great Wall" because of her powers in sports. Now Sister Josepha will show in more important fields the same energy and determination that distinguished Pat Wall on the basketball court or softball field.

Last week in November ushered in one of the newest a by far the biggest addition to our Lucanville family in several year Student Council — that was the "word". Although it really originate last year, little was heard about it and it rested seemingly forgotten until an announcement over the P. A. touched everything off. Each class was requested to choose twelve candidates listing why those people would be qualified to represent their homerooms in the new organization. The names were handed in and after several days the list came out. There was much excitement and we could readily see that something big was breaking.

In an effort to subdue amorous advances of his publisher, 'Grandma Letty' warns: "One more inch and I'll scream!!!"

"Rise, Mr. Hoskins," murmurs 'Grandma Letty' to the amusement of the members of 'his' family. "I see that chivalry is not yet dead."

"No tricks, Hoskie!" threatens sophisticated Prudence Harper of Life magazine. "He who backs out always gets caught in the end!"

Mrs. Nichols tries in vain to quiet the unpredictable Maude as she declares: "Dust waits for no man."

'Grandma Letty' entertains vivacious wife by reading fan mail.

"Get back, Maude—Hurry!!" is Stan's urgent cry as Life photographer, Carl Henderson, poises camera to take the shot that could mean literary ruin for the young budding author.

The 1954 football season may be regarded as having the most outstanding football team in the history of St. Luke's.

Sparked by the superb coaching of Mr. Scafuro St. Luke's sustained a fine record of six wins, two defeats, and one tie.

The team's undying spirit and ever relentless drive provided a sound reason for their excellent performance throughout the game.

Congratulations also go to Mr. Scafuro on his third successful season since his arrival at St. Luke's.

This year's squad, coached by "Ange" Scafuro, compiled the best record in the history of the school. The Lucans totaled an outstanding record of 15 wins and 3 losses during the regular season and also was invited to participate in the Bergen County Jamboree and the N. J. State Tournament.

Besides the regular games, the Purple Knights played two exhibition games with St. James of Pennsgrove and split both games, winning at home and traveling the long distance to the opposing court only to come back without the victory.

Next year the Lucans will miss departing seniors — John Detrano, Richie Santulli, Chuck Lustig, Len Babb, George Soloman and Don Kennedy; it was through the effort of these boys that the Scafuro men, with the help of the underclassmen, kept the team riding at a peak throughout the season.

During the 1954 baseball season the Lucans managed to take top honors in the State Championship. With the help of returning vets Len Babb, Terry Byrne, John Detrano, George Soloman and Ted Giandana, the boys had a wonderful 14-3 record including victories over Pompton Lakes, Don Bosco, and St. Cecilia's of Englewood. Another factor in the Lucan attack was the coaching efforts of Ange Scafuro who is trying for a third consecutive championship.

CHEERLEADERS

With courtesy and good sportsmanship ever present, the cheerleaders backed the team to a victorious football season and an equally successful basketball season. Undaunted in spirit and always on hand to lead the fans in rousing cheers they have established a reputation of which they may be proud. This year's squad enthusiastically encouraged the fans to cheer for that ever-present fighting spirit and winning team.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

St. Luke's Girls' Basketball teams have a winning habit through the years and the current fine squad is no exception. The combination of sharp shooting forwards and hard working guards has produced many victories to gladden the hearts of our loyal rooters, yet St. Luke's reputation for fair play and good sportsmanship has always impressed our opponents.

This season our Lassies intend to enter "big time" after the regular season, the State and Province Tournament, as champions of North Jersey. Best of luck to you, Purple and White, now and in future seasons. May the incoming classes keep the team on the road to victory with honor.

Springtime brings softball to our eager lassies, and the diamond rings with the sound of bat on ball, and shouts of encouragement to their teammates. Clouds of dust on the field mean a close decision at third or at home plate.

The highlight finale of the season is the father and daughter softball game where Father Kay fulfills the dual role of umpire and star pitcher for the hapless fathers.

YOUR SAFETY IS OUR BUSINESS

In Appreciation

Father Duffy—for the privilege of allowing us to dedicate our book to him.

Father Kalafsky—for his interest in all our endeavors and priestly zeal for our spiritual welfare.

Sister Alacoque—for her warm understanding, guidance and sincere interest in each individual student.

The Faculty—to acknowledge our indebtedness for your invaluable service.

The success we have attained in our studies, has been due to your persevering efforts to help us.

Mr. Edward B. Rae of the Rae Publishing Co.—for generously giving of his time and efforts that we might present a lasting record of our achievements in the Pindarian 1955.

Mr. Berg of Lorstan Studio—for giving of his time and talents to give us excellent pictures.

Our Patrons and Advertisers—who have made this book possible through their financial assistance.

To the Student Body—for the cooperation given to the seniors in this our final endeavor.

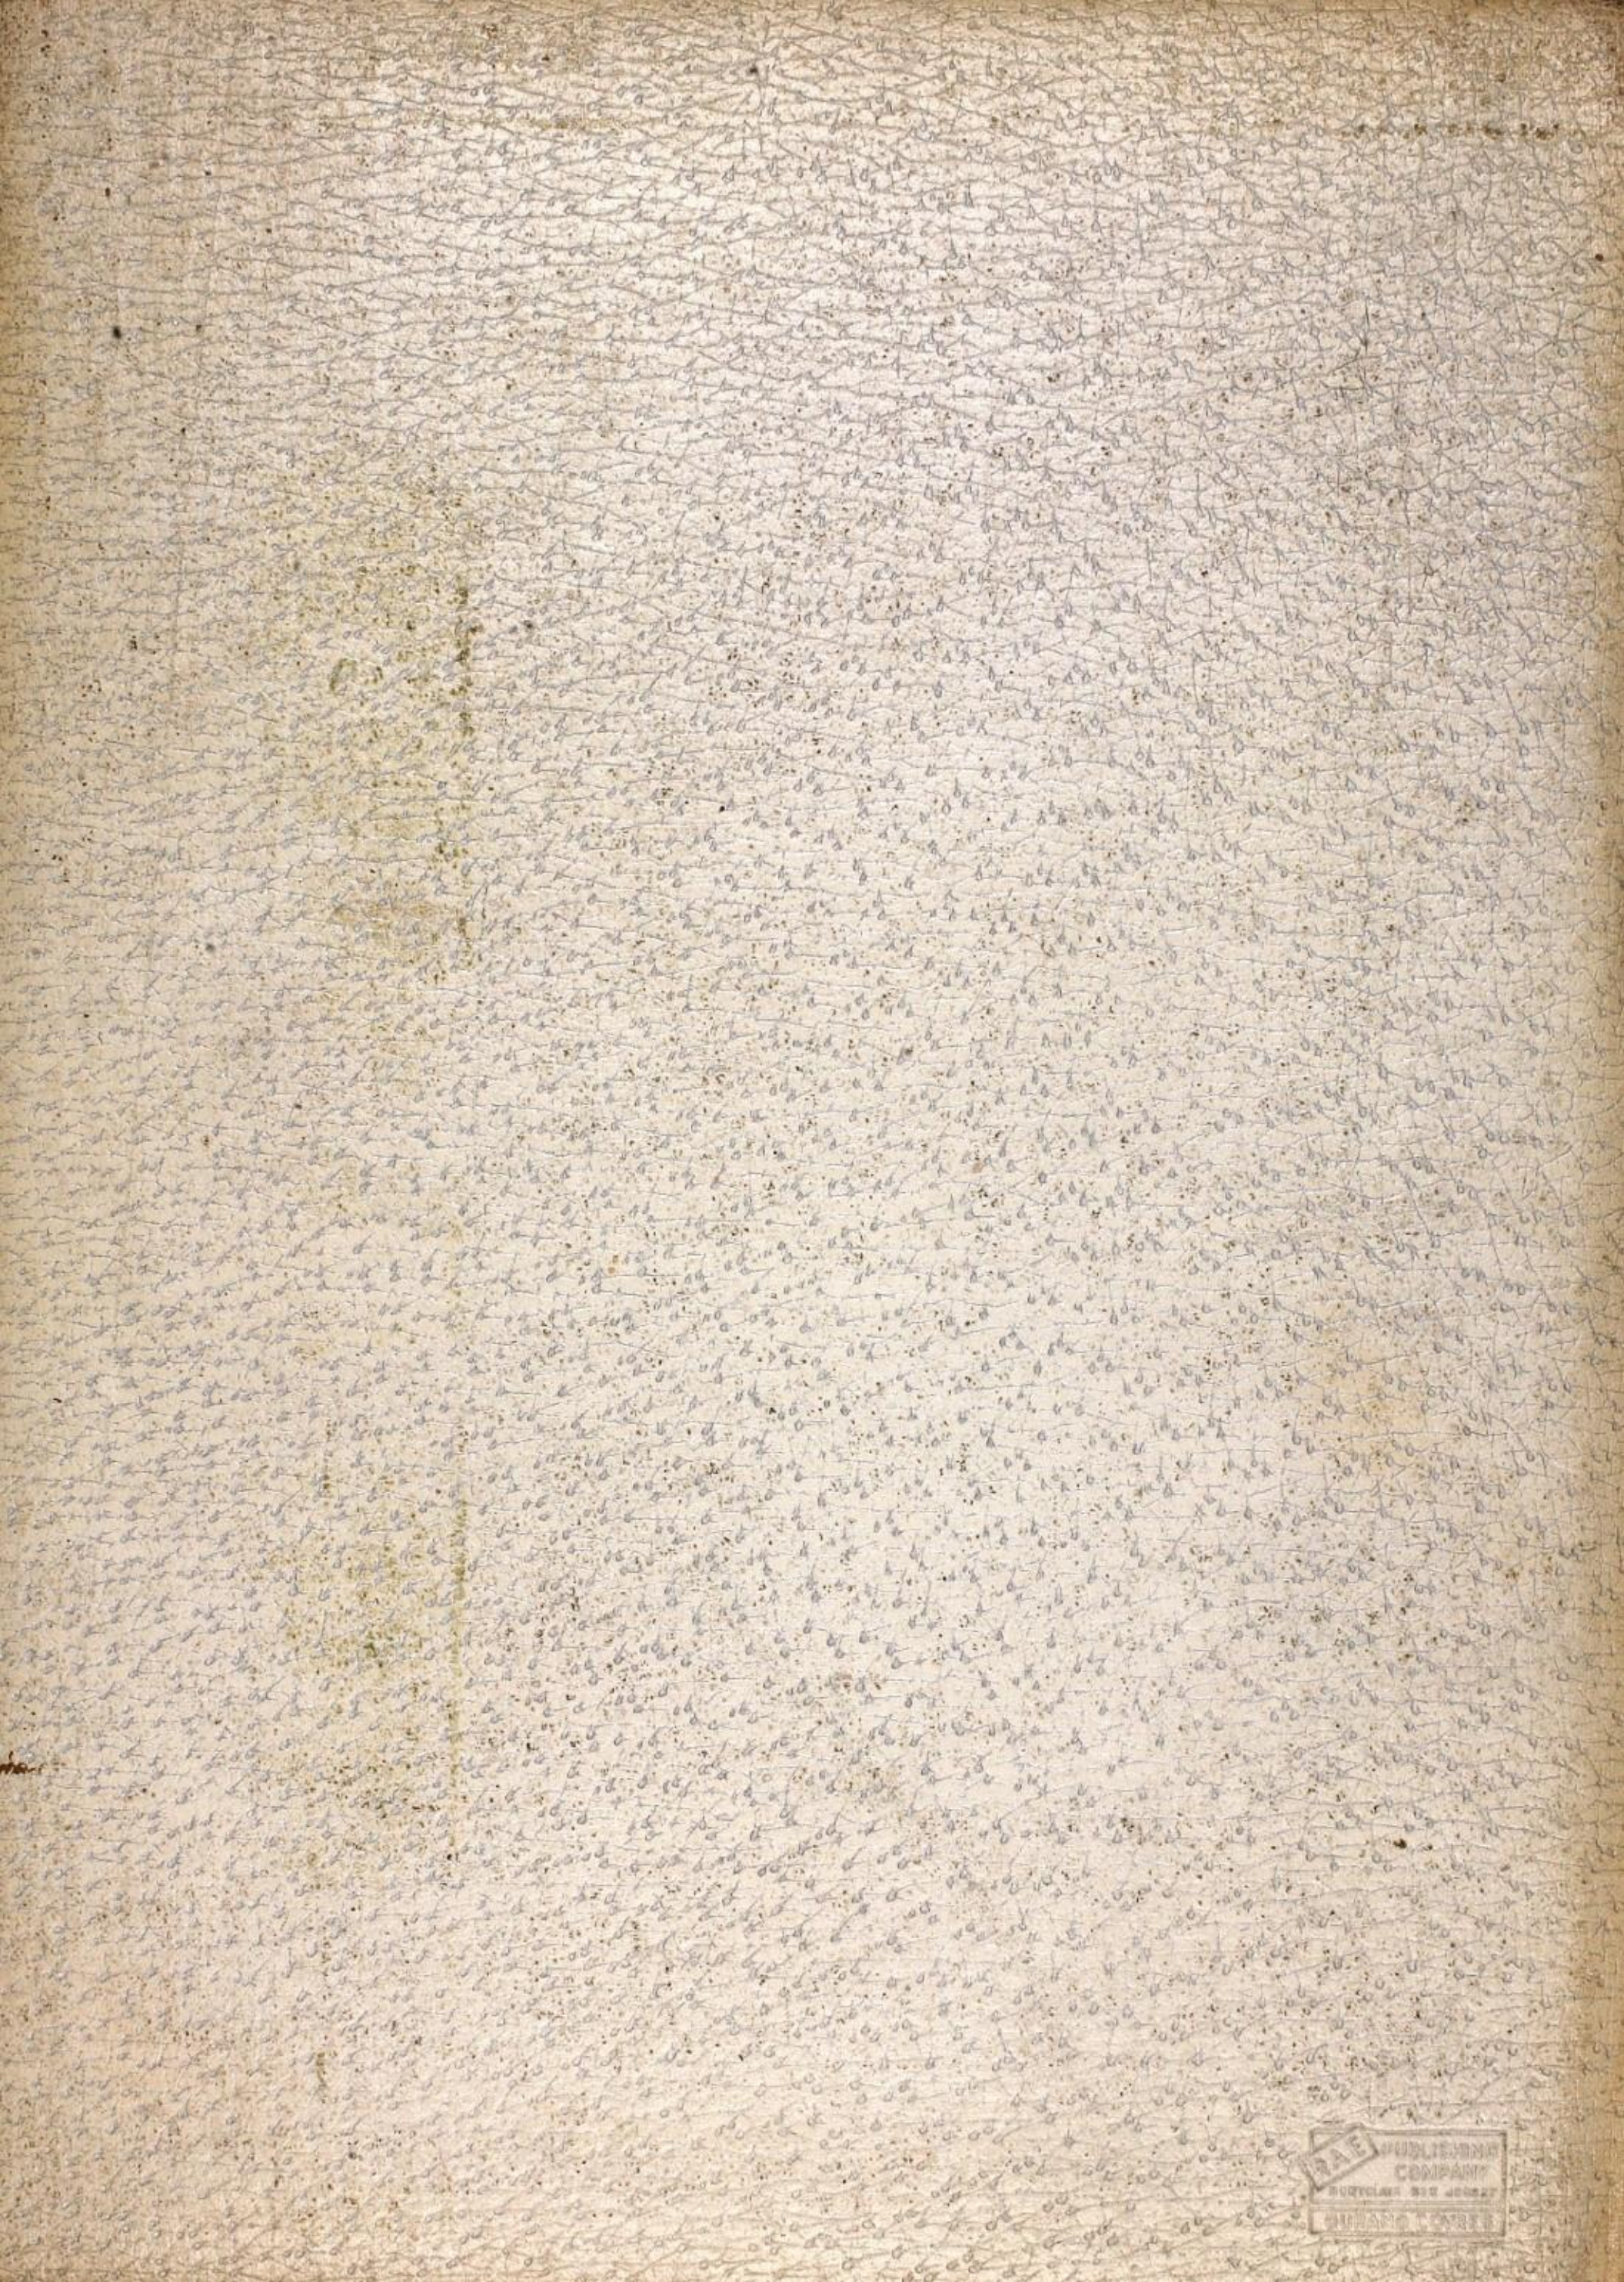

Divine Heart of Jesus, we offer you our hearts and future lives so that we may revive in Thy Church that spirit which you did so abundantly bestow on the Apostles; may zeal for Thy glory and the salvation of souls inflame us all that we in our humble way may serve our country "in the armor of God" and through our efforts may the Kingdom of Your peace be established throughout the whole world, so that soon there may be but one flock and One Shepherd.

One Nation Under God

Religion and patriotism support, strengthen, and complement each other. Without religion and its moral standards, patriotism can be made a cloak for infamy. With religion and its moral standards patriotism has a foundation, a strength, and a permanence that comes from God. In the storm that has struck America and the world, the ship of state will be held firm by two anchors — religion and patriotism.
